

The New Mexico State Investment Council follows a consistent and robust process for sourcing new, high-quality investments for our portfolio. In publicly-traded securities, the Council issues Requests for Proposals (RFPs)--in most cases--when a need is determined. In the private investments area, collaboration between the investment staff and our external investment consultants is used to source new investments.

For all investments, our investment consultants act as lead on unsolicited opportunities, and managers or vendors who wish to show us unsolicited investments are requested to contact RVK, Inc., The Townsend Group, or Mercer as appropriate.

The New Mexico State Investment Council prides ourselves on our transparency, and following the Council's investment activity is made easy for the public. Our comprehensive website contains information on current and past RFPs, meeting minutes that describe in detail Council actions and discussions as well as links to upcoming and past webcast meetings, investment plans for the coming year, and much more. We ask that managers and vendors avail themselves of this resource when seeking information about the Council and the Council's activities.

Thank you.
